Council Plans Next Assembly

Last Wednesday, the Student Council's Academic Committee held an open-session in the Student Center Lounge. The results of the fiasco were indicative of the Student Body's lack of ability to criticize constructively.

The committee is, however, planning future sessions to sound out student opinion concerning the college, its standards and regulations. With better publicity and prior organization, future meetings are expected to be more fruitful.

Assembly Planned

The council, itself, met last Friday in committee and announced plans for a student assembly within the next month, date yet to be set.

Among the items on the agenda of this assembly will be the Council's report on its project to procure a Greyhound Mascot. Also, considered will be a report on recent developments regarding Coke machines in the Cafeteria and a report to Freshmen concerning their election's schedules.

Rathskeller Proposed

Business to be discussed at today's Council meeting will include motions to reserve Millbrook Road for Senior Class parking, to procure tables and chairs for use at school dances (thus relieving high rental prices), to consider means of limiting ticket prices for school dances, and even a motion by Ed Slawski to establish a Rathskeller at Loyola College. Today's Council meeting in lounge at 10 a.m.

I. R. C. - Gorman Series Sponsor Dr. Fenwick

Dr. Charles Fenwick, a distinguished alumnus of Loyola College, and presently the Director of the Department of Legal Affairs, Pan American Union will speak here on the evening of Tuesday, October 24. His topic, "The Social, Political and Economic Problems of Latin America," is a timely and crucial one and of pertinence to all Americans.

The program is being co-sponsored by the IRC and the Gorman Lecture Series in commemoration of the founding of the United Nations and will be held at 8:00 p.m. in the Student Union lounge. (It is trusted that the student body of Loyola will accord Dr. Fenwick a substantial attendance at his lecture. Everyone is invited to attend.)

Loyola Grad

Dr. Fenwick is a graduate of the class of 1907. He received his A.B. degree in that year and two years later his M.A. degree, also from Loyola. His record of achievement throughout the years is one that can only suggest that he is a figure of great importance in the field of international and constitutional law.

Dr. Fenwick, a distinguished alumni of the Class of 1907, will lecture at Loyola on U. N. Day.

Annual Loyola Career Day Lists Thirty-Four Speakers

The seventh annual Career Day will be held this year on Wednesday, October 25th, from 1:30 to 3:45 p.m. in many classrooms and the lounges around campus. The students are asked to be at the designated place by 1:30 p.m. to insure a prompt beginning of this event.

Loyola Senior Campaigns For New Gibbons Stamp

John Q. Feller, a senior history major, has petitioned the Post Office Department to issue a commemorative stamp in honor of the late James Cardinal Gibbons. He suggested that since this year is the one hundredth anniversary of the Cardinal's ordination, the seventh-fifty anniversary of his elevation to the College of Cardinals, and the fortieth anniversary of his death, it would be especially appropriate that the stamp be issue to honor all of these events.

John Feller eyes the proposed commemorative stamp.

Actual Stamp

This proposed stamp will feature a drawing of the Cardinal. Above the drawing of the Cardinal is his coat of arms flanked by the flags of the North and South during the Civil War in recognition of his service as a chaplain during that conflict. At the bottom of the stamp is a wreath which is a symbol of statesmanship. In the center of this wreath is a torch symbolizing freedom and a pen commemorating Cardinal Gibbons' many writings.

Backers

Among the national, state, and city leaders backing this proposal are: Former President Hoover, a long time friend of the Cardinal's, and Vice-President Johnson. Senator John Marshall Butler and former Postmaster General James Farley have expressed the desire to see a stamp issued which will commemorate this great religious leader and statesman.

John's year long campaign will come to a climax sometime during the first week of November, when the Citizen's Stamp Advisory Committee, meeting at Washington, will rule on this stamp as a selection for the Famous American Series.

Career Day is held each year by Loyola College for its student body with the cooperation of the Loyola College Associates. Mr. William E. Hubbard, President of the Associates, and Mr. Francis X. Moritz, the college guidance counselor, have spent several weeks to prepare this year's excellent program.

Students may attend any one of the panel discussions that will be of interest to them.

For Seniors

There will be a special panel for the Seniors in the Student Center lounge with panel moderator, Mr. W. E. Hubbard who is a sales representative for the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. The topics to be discussed are "How to Sell Yourself to a Sales Manager" by Mr. Thomas H. Ducan and "Preparing for Industrial Interviews" by Mr. J. Fred Ogburn. Father Scanlan is the faculty moderator.

Accounting Majors

In room D-3, Mr. Joseph Kosojet from the International Revenue Service will speak on "Government Accounting." Also Mr. Robert Shaefer, Comptroller of the First National Bank, will speak on "Bank Accounting" and Mr. Robert Doudiken, Comptroller of the McCormick Co., will speak on "Commercial and Industrial Accounting."

Mr. Charles Bauermann, a partner of E.D. Meyer Co., will be the panel moderator and Mr. J. Edward Custy, Jr. will be the faculty sponsor.

Biology Majors

In room, L-201, Dr. Max Krauss will speak on "Bio-Physics" and Dr. V. L. Ellicott will discuss "Health Services" and Mr. A.O. Fields will discuss "Opportunities for Federal Employment." Mr. David Hume will be the panel moderator and Dr. William Negherbon will be the faculty sponsor.

Twist Again?

This time last week, Mary Jane Smith, a senior at a local girls' high school, was enthusiastically anticipating her first college dance. Miss Smith's escort for Saturday night was a Loyola College freshman, and their destination was the Freshman Welcome Dance. Mary had reasonably expected a noticeable change from the traditional teenage dance associated with high school fraternities and a certain high school show; however, the only such transition was one of age group.

Miss Smith is a fictitious character, but we feel she represents the majority of freshmen acquaintances at the dance. We do not intend to infer that these young ladies were disappointed, just surprised; for, in general, the freshmen "had a blast."

Traditionally, the indirect purpose of the Freshman Welcome Dance had been to introduce these young men to Loyola College Social Life. This year's dance appeared to accomplish just the opposite; that is, the upper-classmen were well instructed in the "twist," not that we object to popular dances, but there are extremes.

The general student opinion fluctuates greatly; one freshman said, "It was great, man!"; another, "I had a great time, but the band's lousy"; a senior remarked, "It is disgusting"; another, "My wife hates that 'twist'; a junior, "It could have been a lot better"; Father Galvin, "I'm going to bed, I can't stand the racket."

We hope that such an event will not occur again in the near future. We'll chalk this one up to experience and laud "Variety is the spice of life."

N. B. The above is not the opinion of the news Editor!!!

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Saturday night I watched several hundred people energetically trying to convince themselves that they were having a good time. The measure of success can be judged by the number of couples dancing to the indiscernable rhythm (sic) of the last offering of that bunch of clowns called "The Dardanelles." About sixty or sixty-five couples remained for the bitter end (sic), but most gave it up as a bad act and trudged out of the checkroom.

The hyper-inflated price of admission was not the only disagreeable feature of this debacle. To invite the freshman class to listen to a dissonant collection of hacks is an insult of the lowest order. The officers of the Sophomores Class owe the school an apology! A dance which is planned to make money for the class is perfectly acceptable, but to go cheap on the band reduces it to the status of a sucker-trap night club!

Henceforth, the preliminary ads should include some report on the band by an impartial observer. I would volunteer my services to any dance committee in the future.

Yours sincerely
David Grocco, '62

Dear Sir:

Sponsors of future dances at Loyola would do well to provide music of considerably higher caliber than that heard at the Freshman Welcome Dance. If rock and roll is wanted, there are bands available that play a euphonious, professional style of this music as opposed to that inferior garble offered Saturday night.

Our New Math Teacher Mr. John T. Johnson

After a forty-five minute interview which developed into more of a warm chat, this reporter feels that Mr. John Thomas Johnson will be a vital part of the life which is Loyola. His door is and will be open to all, including those in the Math Department, or those in other departments who have a need for his advice or a friendly conversation on almost any subject.

McCoy Grad

His interests and experiences have been wide. Leaving Baltimore City College in 1947 before the end of his junior year, he entered the United States Navy and completed Electronics Technician's School at Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Upon his discharge in 1950 he was employed at Bendix Radio as a technician. In September of 1952 he entered the McCoy College of the Johns Hopkins University and in 1954 he became employed as a thermodynamics technician for Tenney Engineering Inc.

Gilman Fellow

In September of 1956, Mr. Johnson was granted a Gilman Fellowship, under the Bronk plan, which enable an undergraduate of suitable ability to pursue undergraduate and graduate studies in the same semesters. Mr. Johnson was also a junior instructor in Math at that time.

Graduating a Bachelor of Science with honors from McCoy in 1958 he joined the faculty of St. Vincent's College, Latrobe, Penn., where he served for three years. This time provided opportunity for part time graduate studies but not for finding a wife. He is currently enrolled in graduate studies at McCoy College.

Long Stay Planned

Mr. Johnson says, "I am very pleased with my employment at Loyola and I plan to stay here until my retirement."

A hardy "Welcome from the Greyhound and student body to Mr. Johnson."

Mr. Johnson sits in his office during a recent activity period.

The Watchdog

Why is everybody so miffed about the Freshman Welcome Dance last week? Honest, guys, there was nothing wrong with the band; the trouble was with the microphones—They were turned on!

We hear that certain of "them who are" have come to the conclusion that since the students have stopped griping about the new machines, they are now satisfied. In answer to these people, we would like to mention the beatnick summary of Dante's "Inferno"—Like hell!!!

We must have been in error, a few weeks ago, when we called the P.R.'s physical test a P.T. Matter of fact, most of the guys taking it looked like they'd just completed the D.T.'s. Anyway, we knew that they must have a great affection for the tests. Everytime we mention them they get choked up!

Vince Baldini says that what he likes most about his new girl is the way that she can "put on the dog." After one look at her fur piece, we are inclined to agree.

Albie Brown is in agreement with us about Joe Bowman's temperament and thinks that we should make him into a legendary figure called the "the Crisco Kid." We're not sure of what he means, but think that it will work, since both the product and the student are "fat in the can"!!!

We asked Father Conlin about his opinion of the dance last week, and he began by saying something about an anthropological study of the Congo. We agree as that that's what the dance chairman intended. Anybody who'd pick a band like he had, could not spell anthropological!!!!!!

Campus Question

The campus question this week is: What one thing would you like to see added to Loyola?

Bird's Beat

"A Word From Bird" is a daily column here at Loyola which is written by the "word man" Charlie Kloch. The purpose of this project is to help students and bibliophiles pick up a few common uncommon words.

The idea for this project was conceived this time last year when the "Sunpapers" had an article in the "This Week" section one Sunday which stated that word power was directly proportional to the amount of money a person could earn in a lifetime. Therefore, the Bird saw his chance to do a service to Loyola men.

The first word appeared on November 3, 1960, and a different word has appeared faithfully every school day since. Up until this week "The Word From Bird" has been posted only on the bulletin board near the locker room in the Student Union Building. However, starting this Monday a duplicate will appear on the bulletin board next to the west entrance to the Library Building.

Each day of the week read the word for the day, then on Friday take the little quiz in the Greyhound. If you are not a regular reader of this daily column now, start this Monday and try to know all the words so that you can get 100% correct on next week's quiz.

Here is this week's quiz. Match the words in the first column to their synonyms in the second column.

- | | |
|-----------------|-------------|
| A. desist | 1. stale |
| B. plaintive | 2. to stop |

| E. vapid | 5. disease |

The answers are on page 4.

Meet Bobby Harmon

"In this corner, at 123 pounds, the champion of the world, Bobby Harmon." These are the words which are music to the ears and the highest hopes of one Bosworth "Bobby" Harmon, our energetic assistant to Wilson Beane.

Began at Y. M. C. A.

Born in Baltimore on May 14, 1932, Bobby started his pugilistic career at the tender age of ten, fighting at the Y. M. C. A. Actually he was starting his fights outside the ring, but the manager of the team told him if he was going to fight to put on gloves; and so he joined the team. For the next three years he was the champion of the Pee Wee class. When the team broke up in 1946, Bob joined the Police Boys Club and remained with them for three years. It was at this time that he was coached by Mr. Clarence, a Pro handler, who gave him his first idea of fighting professionally.

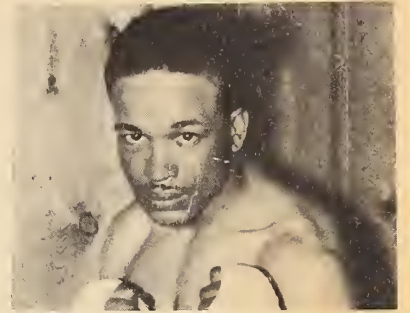

Turned Pro in '49

As an amateur, Bobby couldn't get anyone to fight him and so in 1949 he turned pro. His hopes were slightly shattered when he lost to Donald Downs in his first fight. But as Bobby says, "To seek experience you have to take it on the chin." And take it on the chin he did. Moving to Philadelphia to obtain fights in his class, Bob fought hard but without success. His size was the biggest handicap.

Has Determination

Returning to Baltimore in 1952, Bob was inactive for two years because of a broken nose, but he retrained slowly and returned in 1958 because, as he says, "Fighting is part of my life." In his latest fight Bobby scored a third round T.K.O. over "Irish" Dick Murphy which brought his lifetime record to 22-7-4. Now in his eighth year at Loyola, Bobby is looking for the big break which could possibly send him on to bigger things. But Bobby is strong on determination and as someone once said, "Where there's a will there's a way."

BIG CHAMP: Bobby Harmon flexes his muscles before the big bout.

Dr. Negherbon Honored By French Government

Dr. William O. Negherbon, chairman of the biology department at Loyola College, has recently returned to the campus after being honored by the French government. He presided at the Toxicology Section of the First International Congress of Agricultural Medicine held at Tours this summer.

Dr. Negherbon was honored by the Pasteur Institute and awarded a Memorial Medallion. He was also appointed Vice President of the International Association of Agricultural and Occupational Diseases and Hygiene.

Insecticides

The Lubin Institute in Poland has invited Dr. Negherbon to visit and conduct a seminar on modern insecticides next summer and also to conduct a field and demonstration trip into the Carpathian Mountains.

Russian Invited

He has also been invited to visit Russia as a guest of the Division of the Kiev Institute for Industrial and Occupational Diseases and Hygiene. This invitation was extended by the Director, Professor Miedvied.

Dr. Negherbon has been teaching here at Loyola since 1957. He is the author of numerous scientific articles and several volumes on toxicology which have received international recognition.

In 1912 he received his Doctorate of Philosophy from Johns Hopkins University and since then has received honorary degrees from Marquette, Holy Cross, and Catholic University.

In 1955, on the occasion of Father Beatty's inauguration as President of Loyola College, the school conferred on Dr. Fenwick the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters.

Several Books

Included in his published books are "American Neutrality: Trial and Failure" (1940) and "Inter-American Regional System" (1949). This is but a sampling of his extensive bibliographies.

Background

Prior to his association with the Pan American Union, Dr. Fenwick served as a delegate to the Inter-American Conference for the Maintenance of Peace in 1936 and as a delegate at the Eight International Conference of American States in 1938. In 1939, he was designated by the United States as a member of the Inter-American Neutrality Committee. This committee was later reconstituted as the Inter-American Juridical Committee and Dr. Fenwick continued to serve as a member until 1947 when he resigned to accept his present position.

future
lately?

You:

Why the gold bars?

Future You:

You're needed... just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet. If we don't...

You:

All right. But what can I do for the Air Force?

Future You:

The Air Force needs college trained men and women as officers. This is caused by the rapidly advancing technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs.

You:

Say I was interested... how can I get to be an officer?

Future You:

You know about Air Force ROTC and the Air Force Academy. Then there's the navigator training program. You've probably heard about Officer Training School... where the Air Force takes certain college graduates, both men and women, and commissions them after three months of training.

You:

Starting salary is important. What about that?

Future You:

Add it up. Base pay, tax-free allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay. You don't have to be an ace major to see it adds up to an attractive package.

You:

I've been thinking about getting my Master's.

Future You:

As an officer you can apply for the Air Force Institute of Technology. At no cost, and while on active duty some officers may even win their Ph.D. degrees.

You:

Tell me more.

That's the job of your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write to Officer Career Information, Dept. SC110, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

Slawski Sez

Political theorists have for some time felt that those with a college degree should receive more than an average say in the affairs of government since they, by virtue of their education, should be more versed in important matters and have developed a facility for analysis that would place them above the uninitiate. Although this theory is somewhat less than sound politically, the fact remains that a graduate of college is expected to be knowledgeable in all of man's affairs.

This presents a great problem. There is no time in one's life when one is more pressed for time than in college. Besides the necessity of remaining current there is also a mandate to acquire background of recent events that are so important in this missile-mad maze.

Recently a book was published that can be of great assistance to someone who is interested in the present situation and desires to gather a knowledge of the events of the recent past that have greatly contributed to the present morass. This book is INSIDE EUROPE TODAY by John Gunther.

Mister Gunther began turning his Insides out in 1936 when he compiled his first volume about the continent, INSIDE EUROPE. Since that time, Mr. Gunther has manifested his credentials as a commentator on the affairs of the various countries. Among his list of works are probes into the interior of such countries as Russia and Africa. His candid comments and acute perceptive talent have marked his works with as much interest as information.

After twenty-five years, Gunther again looks long into that continent that has so long held so much for civilization. In his first work, he viewed a group of countries balancing on the precipice of a war which was to prove the most devastating debacle in the history of mankind. In the two and a half decade that have elapsed since that work, the face of not only Europe but the entire world, has undergone a gigantic plastic surgery. The book itself needed a face lifting.

The book survived the operation well. Compiled from Gunther's recent European tour and numerous interviews with leading personages, he manages to give a very personal and perceptive account of Europe today. Gazing into such controversial topics as West Germany, the Berlin problem, Spain, Italy, and all the surrounding areas.

Besides the pertinent facts about these places and comments of their rulers, Gunther also gives the pertinent background data to help the reader understand the problems. This book is not a substitute for other sources if one has the time, but if the reader is interested in a general background upon which to build, this work can be a great help.

Sticks and Stones

Note From W. H. H.:

May I use this opportunity to apologize to the Officers of the Class of 1964 for my vehement attack on them last week. The fact seems to be that it was I who told them to charge $3.50 for the Freshman Welcome Dance. It was not until after their plans were well advanced, that I discovered the correct prices charged by the Class of 1963!!! This is not my first case of HOOOF-in-MOUTH disease, Believe me!!!!

The wielder of the poison pen returns after a week's absence. His target: the students of Loyola College at large!!

In the first issue of THE GREYHOUND, this column contained a vehement criticism of the Student Council's conduct, in reference to the school mascot affair. This writer said that the Student Council should have assured themselves that the students possessed the needed school spirit to insure the successful carrying out of the Council's plans. Last Wednesday, some Council members witnessed first hand this evident lack of student interest in school affairs at their public academic committee meeting in the student center lounge.

Mr. Miles White will speak on "Management in Banking." Mr. William Wilson will be the panel moderator and Mr. Sweitzer will be the faculty sponsor.

Chem Majors

A series of discussions for the Chemistry majors will be held in L-104, with Mr. William Heavyside as panel moderator and Father Hauber as faculty sponsor. Mr. Theodore Zink will discuss "Emission Spectroscopy"; Mr. Irving Stone will speak on the topic of "Geo-Chemistry"; and Mr. Morton Bader will speak on the topic of "Quality Control."

Economics

With Dr. Boyle as faculty sponsor and Father William Lee as panel moderator, the three topics to be discussed for Economics majors will be in L-202. Mr. Thomas Catron will discuss "International Trade"; Dr. George T. Brown will speak on "Labor Economics," and Dr. Elizabeth Morissey will speak on "Economics-An Important Background for Many Careers."

English Majors

In D-5, Dr. Charles Hands will be the faculty sponsor and Mr. Daniel Maguire, the panel Moderator, at a series of discussion for English Majors. Mr. Paul Broderick will speak on "Newspaper Writing" and Mr. Joseph Caulfield will speak on "Book Publishing," Mr. J. Stephen Becker will discuss "Newspaper Management" and Major I.M. Belha will discuss the topic of "Modern Language Careers."

Engineering-Physics

The three topics for the Engineering-Physics majors will be held in Room L-204 with Mr. Anthony Frezza as panel moderator and Dr. Bernard Weigman as faculty sponsor. Dr. William Thaler will discuss "Nuclear Physics," Dr. Milton Crodsky will discuss "Human Factors in Engineering," and Mr. Ralph Hookway will speak on the topic of "Space Technology."

Math Majors

Mr. Francis Kammel will be faculty sponsor and Mr. Samuel P. Jeppi will be panel moderator in a series of discussions for the Math Majors in room L-101. The topics are: "Engineering Through Mathematics," "Computer Operations," and "Mathematics in the Chemical Industry" by Dr. Edward C. Watters, Mr. Michael Romanelli, and Mr. Samuel Ketner respectively.

Physics Majors

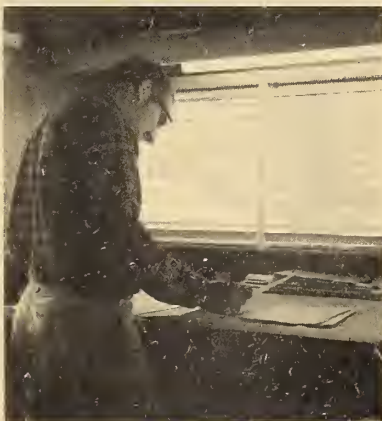

In room L-203, Dr. James Gumnick and Mr. John F. Connors, the faculty sponsor and panel moderator respectively, will head a panel for Physics majors. Mr. Albert Sullivan will discuss "The Physics Major in Engineering." Mr. Victor Norris will speak on "Solid State Physics," and Mr. Sidney C. Miller will speak on the topic of "Communications Engineering."

Social Science

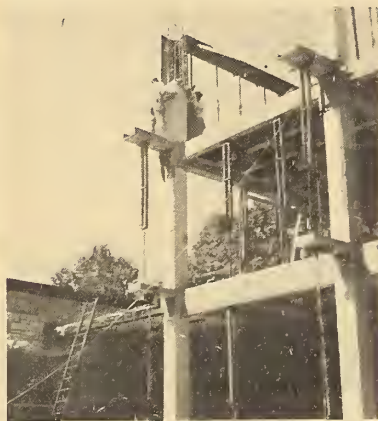

With Dr. Harry Kirwin as faculty sponsor, and Mr. Victor Swallow as panel moderator, a series of panel discussions will be held for the Social Science majors in F-3. "History" will be discussed by Mr. James Brewer. "Law and Politics" will be discussed by Hon. Francis X. Gallagher, and a speaker will discuss "Peace Corps Careers."

The students are again urged to make use of the opportunity to hear the discussion on the topics of most interest to them.

GREYHOUND SPORTS

Not too long ago, the American people were shocked to learn that a number of our collegiate basketball players had been involved in fixing games. The National Collegiate Athletic Association, the leading governing body of college athletics, was, to say the least, profoundly disturbed by the fixing scandals and is determined to see that such events do not happen again. A few weeks ago, the NCAA and other affiliated collegiate governing bodies sent out a special report to the coaches of the country, outlining procedures which they hope will prevent organized crime from poking its sticky fingers into collegiate sports.

In the report, the NCAA reaffirms its longstanding ideal that the purpose for an athlete in coming to college is not to become a more proficient athlete, but to obtain an education. "Whenever a young man selects an institution of higher learning for purely sports reasons, that institution has taken unto itself a potential source of trouble."

The ideal of the NCAA is indeed a fine one. A young man should come to college first as a student, then as an athlete.

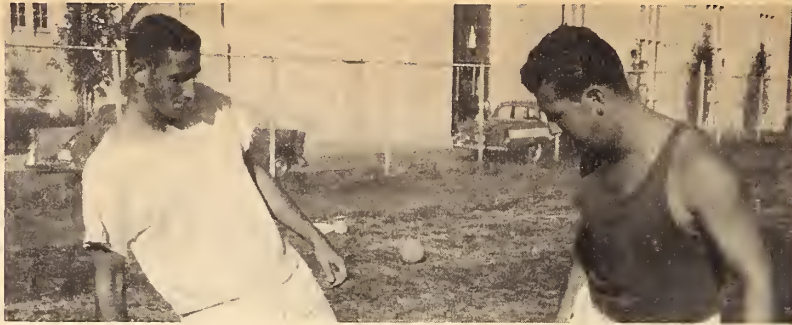

However we hope that the NCAA realizes that many of its larger member institutions are defeating the purpose of this ideal by the overemphasis which they place on such sports such as football and basketball. A young athlete who finds himself performing before a crowd of 50,000 in a stadium in addition to a nationwide TV audience may find it difficult to think of himself as a student rather than a national sports personality. This overemphasis of collegiate sports places many young athletes in a position where their sense of values can easily become confused.

Although the moral conduct of our bribed athletes cannot be condoned, the attitudes of our overemphasizing coaches, who place young athletes in a position of potential danger, must be condemned.

Swimming News

Swimming coach Bill Klarnier has announced that swimming practice will start on Monday, October 23, at 3 P.M. The coach reports that the team is in need of short distance freestylers and encourages everyone to come out for the squad whether he has experience or not. The loss of Powley and Bree has left a big gap in the Hound freestyle department. According to the coach, early practices will be very easy, emphasizing gradual conditioning and fundamentals.

Last year the Greyhound aquatic forces copped the Conference crown, nosing out runnerup A.U. in the finals by a one point margin.

Booter Co-Captains Kennedy and Graham use perfect twist techniques in practice.

Greyhounds Drop Fifth Straight By 9-1 Count

On Wednesday, Oct. 11, the Green and Greybooters traveled to Emmitsburg to be greeted there by a strong Mount Saint Mary's squad. While the Mounties offense was notching two goals, their defense held the Hounds scoreless for a 2-0 victory.

Last Saturday, the Catholic University Cardinals invaded the Loyola campus to engage Loyola's soccer team. An extremely sloppy field and a steady rain didn't seem to bother the visitors in the least. The Hound booters didn't have much luck in stopping their rivals either as the Cardinals left the field at the half, leading by 4-0.

In the second half, the Hounds didn't fare much better. The one consolation for Loyola was that a shutout was averted and the scoring jinx was broken when center forward Denny Grabowski booted in the Hounds only goal. Still Loyola dropped the game, its fifth in a row, by a 9-1 count.

Western Maryland Next

Tomorrow the Hounds will travel to Westminster where they will meet the Green Terrors of Western Maryland College. Loyola, still looking for its first win, will be hoping to repeat last season's 2-1 conquest of Western Maryland.

Charley Graham, the Hound's soccer co-captain and president of the Block "L" Club, plans to take on an additional responsibility this December. Best wishes to Charley and his new responsibility, his future bride, from the Greyhound Sports Staff.

Fight Coming Up

Bobby Harmon, Loyola's gift to the boxing world, will fight this coming Monday night at the Coliseum. The great Archie Moore heads the evening's card. Bobby reports that he worked out with Archie last Friday night and got a few good pointers and words of encouragement from boxing's grand old man.

Practice Starts

New head-coach Nap Doherty began basketball practice for his charges this past Monday. Swimming practice will start Monday, the 23rd.

Hound Harriers Frampton, Smith, McGraw and Jenkins warm up before workout.

Willie's Nemesis Jumps To Lead In IM Bowling

Charles Namecek rolled a 136 game and a 36th set to spearhead Willie's Nemesis to the lead of the Bowling league. Sam and Friends and the Woodchuckers are tied for second place with 2 wins and 1 loss. In third place are the Hi's Fi's and the Foul Lane Five with 1 and 2 records. Willie's Winners are bringing up the rear having lost all 3 of their games.

Touch Football

In the Touch Football League, 4 games were played last week. The Debits beat the Thumpers by forfeit. The Hotshots were declared the winner in their game with the Mafia. The game ended in a 0 to 0 tie, but the Hotshots had 3 first downs to the Mafia's 2. In this case, first downs determined the victory since the penetrations were also even. On Friday morning the Hamilton Reks mauled the Bloodclots by a score of 31 to 0. Joe Ray, Joe Enoch and John Staurt starred for the winners. In the final game the Junior Science Majors beat the Comics 13 to 0. Schroeder threw a 50 yd. pass to Caruso and 30 yd. pass to Singer to account for the scores.

Tennis Finals

The finals in the Tennis Tournament took place last week. Rus Tontz, a freshman from Loyola High, defeated Larry McCanna, a freshman from Mt. St. Joe, 6-1, 6-0 in a hard fought match. This was the first year that intramural tennis was held. The program was a big success and it is hoped that the other intramurals will have as much effect upon the students of Loyola.

Harriers To Put 3-1 Record Against Hopkins

A powerful Mt. St. Mary's squad cut short the hound harriers winning skein at two in Emmitsburg last Wednesday, Oct. 11, by a narrow 26-30 margin.

The fatal blow to Loyola's chances of racking up another victory was the wide gap between Loyola's first and second and fourth and fifth finishers. Rick Frampton, in a speedy 16:10, led the pack, but he was followed in by three Mt. St. Mary's men. Hounds Hank McGraw, Lew Smith, and Tom Kenney finished 5th, 6th, and 7th respectively.

Grapplers Still Need New Coach

The Hound wrestlers have not as yet found a coach. Lefty Reitz reports that his search for the new mentor has thus been fruitless. Any student who knows someone who would be interested in the position is asked to contact the athletic department. Also any alumnus of the college who feels qualified to be the Greyhound mat mentor is asked to apply for the job.

The new coach, whoever he will be, will have good material to work with. Last season's squad had a winning record and suffered few graduation losses.

Despite the rain and cold winds, the Hounds wasted little time in getting back on the winning track by downing the visitors from C.U., this past Saturday, Oct. 14.

The Frampton-led Greyhounds romped to an easy 20-36 win. Even with the dismal weather conditions Rick's time, 16:43, was fifteen seconds faster than that of the Towson State meet. Lew Smith finished a strong second. Hank McGraw, Tom Kenn and Bill Jenkins finished 4th, 5th, and 7th.

With a 3-1-1 record under their belts, the harriers face a much needed two week rest. Their next meet is at home against the Hopkins Blue Jays on Oct. 31.
